Every time I hear the words “ child sacrifice” it effects me to my core.

If I ever get lazy regarding this movement, all I have to do is hear or remind myself of these babies and I’m back 100%.

We can NEVER lay down.

We have to put these evil bastards where they belong.

Sometimes I wish I never started paying attention...its been rough..went through a rage/depression state for almost an entire year in "15...but was able to shake it off. The realization of how this world REALLY works is just like waking up from the matrix..go from cozy illusion to cold harsh reality. But I'm glad I'm awake...otherwise I never would of been wise enough to protect myself and my family from the Frankenshot. Its psychologically demanding to swim upstream...but it makes us stronger..and we are growing in numbers...massively.

The darks also threw the wide acceptance of casual sex on to us to further imbalance energy. More important the casual exchange of body fluids enters the blood brain barrier therefore an exchange and change in DNA, not to mention, on the energetic fields picking up the energy of a sex partners past partners. Too too much. Sexuality needs to return to sacred.

@G M I got that same impression, and I used to watch his show for many years. I think he knows that CRT, along with most ideas from Authoritarian Left, is nonsense and hateful, but if he goes too far in critiquing it, he will lose his show and be blacklisted everywhere. If you are on the Left, and you say what you really think, you will be branded a Right-wing extremist.

When they teach history in school they don't have time to go into every incident that happened. The highlight the big events and skim over some. There is a lot of things in history that don't get the attention they should. Luckily we have movies and documentaries that can fill in the missing gaps. I went to a small school in the 80's and we talked about the treatment of the indigenous people and slavery. But most of what I know about it a learned from movies.

Malcolm acts a lot like the smart, cool and important guy in the room at the same time that he "happens to be black and democrat."
Critical race theory is like the woman studies of race and the only thing it's good for is to divide people through resentment, nothing more. Everything CRT wants to impose on every school is already recorded history that can be investigated and studied. Aren't there any other things to study that are better for kids' futures?
Making black people's minds be stuck in the past will only make it harder for them to get out of the racism/slavery hole. Look at South Africa.

@Christos Lavrentidis To me it is evident that Bill is a closet Republican but cant come out because Hollywood and the media would destroy him., so he has sprinkle some left leaning sugar in once in a while. Exact same predicament with Joe Rogan, except Joe is increasingly caring less and less what anyone thinks.

@Shrayes Raman where I live now there's a huge asian/oriental community and most of them came here from nothing.. they got here and women/men busted their ass working in factories working 60+ hours a week to make sure their kids are gonna lead a life they'll be proud of. Their kids may not have that same drive or character of their parents but that will come with age and life experiences as will their responsible peers of other races. The things they do have however are like what the comment above mentioned, strong family bonds and a sense of belonging within their communities. CRT is a cheap way to push blame off the failure of parents. STRONG family bonds and healthy participation within your community whether it be church, sports, school extra curriculars, etc.. that's what these kids need to support them through life and if you're unlucky and not brought up by a strong family it's your duty to learn and develop that drive and character of those asian/oriental families that paved their own path for their future generations to follow! Personal accountability no matter where or how you start off in life is the backbone of a healthy society and a great country. CRT diminishes all of that, teaches kids that their problems are out of their control and what's standing in their way is another person/race, instead it's the lack of will to pull yourself out the mud and chase your goals.

Ephesians 5:11-12 Have nothing to do with the fruitless deeds of darkness, but rather expose them. It is shameful even to mention what the disobedient do in secret.
